LEADING MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS PROOF OF Amazing NEW MEDICATED FORMULA FOR PIMPLES

ACNE, TEEN-AGE PIMPLES, SURFACE SKIN BLEMISHES and IRRITATIONS!

DOCTORS IN ACTUAL CLINICAL TESTS* PROVE SUCCESS OF

AMAZING DOUBLE-ACTION SKIN TREATMENT THAT CONCEALS AS IT MEDICATES

Actual clinical tests conducted by leading doctors have proven that an amazing, new-type medication helps clear up acne blemishes while it covers and hides embarrassing pimples! In the many cases tested by the doctors, there were a mixture of men, women and children, White and Negro. Some with recent pimple eruptions and others with acne troubles of many years. The results were:

This skin formula does wonders for my face and I wouldn't be without it.
—L.R.C. Durtis, Nebr.

I had tried everything, nothing did as good as your product.
—T.B. Redondo Beach, Calif.

Your Scope Products have helped my skin tremendously.
—A.M., Baltimore, Md.

I was surprised and delighted with the results.
—M.A. Elwood, Ind.

I am very happy with your formula. It is very effective.
—E.R., Calexico, Calif.

Since I am not allowed to use soap, I found out that this is the best product I ever used.—D.R., Linden, N. J.

I would like to compliment you ... This product has done wonders for me.—R.A.G., Victoria, B.C., Canada

100% SATISFACTORY IN CLINICAL TESTS

*45% were COMPLETELY CLEARED!
38% were DECIDEDLY IMPROVED!
17% were IMPROVED!

NOW THE SAME TYPE OF MEDICATION USED IN THESE CLINICAL TESTS IS AVAILABLE TO YOU!

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH REVEALS NEGLECT BECAUSE OF MANY SKIN TROUBLES

Skin Specialists and Medical statistics tell us that broken out skin usually occurs from adolescence and can continue on through adulthood. Adolescents often carry these scars throughout their life. Many never get over the "feeling of embarrassment" and are always conscious of their appearance and complexion. Persistent cases of "bad skin" sometimes continue on through adulthood. In this stage of life, the responsibilities of earning a living and meeting people are essential if you are to climb the ladder of success in your job. It is doubly important to give your skin problems immediate care. Physicians state that to neglect your skin may prolong your skin troubles and make it more difficult to clear up. And, there is no better time to get pimples under control than NOW!

DOCTORS RECOMMEND THIS TREATMENT

Physicians report two important ways to control this condition: First, they prescribe clearing the pores of clogging matter; and second, inhibit the excessive oiliness of the skin.

To help overcome these two conditions, Scope Products' research make available two scientifically-tested formulas that contain clinically proven ingredients. The first formula contains special cleansing properties not found in ordinary cold creams or skin cleansers. Thoroughly, but gently, it removed all surface scales, dried sebaceous matter, dust, dirt and debris—leaving your skin wonderfully soft, smooth and receptive to proper treatment. The second formula acts to reduce the excessive oiliness produced by the overactive sebaceous glands.

COVERS UP UNSIGHTLY BLEMISHES WHILE MEDICATION DOES ITS WORK

To remove the immediate embarrassment of skin blemishes, Scope Medicated Skin Formula helps conceal while it medicates! Unlike many other skin preparations, Scope Formula has a pleasant fragrance! Imagine! The moment you apply the Scope Treatment to your skin you can instantly face the immediate present with greater confidence in your appearance. At the same time, you are sure that the medication is acting to remove surface skin blemishes and helping to prevent new ones. This "cover-up" action gives you peace of mind. No longer need you suffer from the feeling of self-consciousness or inferiority. Make this your first step in the direction of a clear complexion and skin that's lovable to kiss and touch!

DON'T LET UGLY BLACKHEADS BLEMISH YOUR PERSONALITY

If you want help in getting rid of those ugly Blackheads, you need SCOPE'S Amazing DOUBLE ACTION Skin Formula. See how fast and easy it aids in clearing the skin of those unsightly blackheads. It loosens those pore-clogging impurities and softens the hard deposits underneath and around the blackheads, making their removal simple and effective. Scope Medicated Cream, with its successfully tested ingredients, instantly and completely covers up all skin irritations, leaving your skin clearer, smoother, and more attractive looking.

DON'T SPREAD INFECTION BY SQUEEZING PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

Clinical reports state that many people squeeze out pimples and blackheads with their fingers. This is unsanitary and may lead to the spread of the infection. This abuse may also inflame your skin and leave red welts and ugly looking blotches and bumps. As a result your face may be covered with pimples and blemishes. Soon you'll be sorry you ever squeezed or picked at your skin by using this unscientific method to get rid of skin eruptions.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

We make this guaranteed offer because so many users of Scope Medicated Skin Formula have written us telling how it helped to clear up their complexion. We want you to try the Scope Double Treatment at our risk. Just a few minutes of your time each day can yield more gratifying results than you ever dreamed possible! If you are not delighted in every way by the improved condition and general appearance of your skin IN JUST 10 DAYS, simply return the unused portion and we will refund not just the price you paid — but DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK! You have everything to gain ... and we take all the risk!

SKIN DOCTORS STATE THAT TO NEGLECT YOUR SKIN MAY PROLONG YOUR COMPLEXION TROUBLE AND MAKE IT MORE DIFFICULT TO CLEAR UP!

DELAY MAY BE HARMFUL—
Send for Scope Medicated Skin treatment with its special "cover-up" action!

SURE, QUICK RESULTS—WORKS LIKE MAGIC!

RESERVE BOY FRIEND

EVERYBODY seemed paired off neatly. The soda fountain was full up, the tables were occupied. Three couples were dancing around the jukebox. Before Diane could go on, hoping no one had noticed her quick, searching look, she felt the slight touch on her shoulder.

"Diane?" an unfamiliar voice said.

Diane looked at the tall, red-headed boy. Something seemed to register, and then it faded away. "I'm sorry," she said, "I don't think I know you."

"You are Diane?" he said.

"Excuse me." And she left. She felt resentful. There was only one person she wanted to see, or talk to now. Danny Miller.

Crossing the triangle bit of pavement and grass, she wondered why some wit had named it Brentwood Park. But that wasn't what was on her mind. She was thinking things to avoid the hurt that kept scorching her inside where the hurts that don't show hurt the most.

Diane was ready to take her pride in her hands and hold it out to Danny Miller and say, "Danny, I'm sorry." And as she went on to the library, hoping, expecting, wishing to meet Danny, she thought of how they had met. Why had she wanted to change him? Blaming that for what had happened. She met him, liked him, and then tried to change him to her idea of what she wanted in a man.

"Eternal woman," she moaned. "For a sixteen-year old, you sure are a dumb dish."

She went up to the library steps, inside, studied the books stacked there. But though she saw some attractive titles, she didn't want to borrow any books today. She looked at Travel, Fiction, Mystery. But her mind was on Danny and she saw No Danny. The Reference Section, she thought. He might be there, studying. She would slide into a seat alongside him and smile and say "Hi." And things would be as they once were.

It wasn't her fault, she thought, that she was a better than average student in Math and Latin. She had practically grown up with the stuff. Her father was an engineer, and her mother'd been a language major. And it wasn't her fault that Danny Miller had to be weak in those two subjects. She had offered to help him . . . to make him over into a good student. He had felt humiliated at first, but she told him, "Men are so silly. There are things you can do better than me. And I'll be glad to call upon you for help."

She had helped him and Danny improved. And they had fun, swimming, dancing, sodas . . . until that blonde came to town. She had moved in right up the street from Danny.

"I'm not taking you to the dance," Danny exploded quietly at her last Wednesday.

"But Danny . . ."

"I can't help it," he said. "It's one of those family deals. Want me to leave home?"

"I don't know what you mean," she said. "I bought a new dress . . . special for this dance." And she had to fight the tears. She couldn't let him see her cry. She bit the inside of her cheek until it hurt.

"Please understand, Diane," he had said. "Linda Butler's father is my dad's supervisor in the plant. I've got to take her. Especially since I let her help me with my math and Latin."

"You what!" she exclaimed. And thinking about the dance said, "You can't do that to me."

"I can and I must," Danny said. "You've got to accept that."

"I'll accept that, Danny Miller," she retorted. "And here, please accept this." She had taken off his pin, and placed it into his hand as he stood with mouth slightly open. "Close your mouth," she had enough self control to say. "Unless you're catching flies." Then, with oh, so much adult poise, she pivoted on her heel, and marched off.

That evening the phone rang, and her father said, "Diane, it's for you." Diane answered it, and it was Danny. "Can I come over and study with you?" he wanted to know. But there was no apology in his voice, no regret. Nothing. Just a request to be saved the humiliation of a possible low grade in school the next day.

"Why don't you study with Linda Butler?" she had asked in a voice so eager to inflict the hurt she had experienced, that her dad had looked at her sharply. "I am sorry . . . good-night." And when he was quiet on his end, she just hung up.

And Diane learned what many people learn . . . not to freely hand over to the opposition something or someone you might miss very much.

She was sitting in the Reference Section when the red-headed boy who had spoken to her in the soda shop slipped into the seat beside her. He kept his voice down so that he wouldn't disturb the only other reader there . . . an old man who certainly wasn't Danny.

"What do you want?" she asked.

"I want to make sure you're Diane Meadows."

When she looked at him, he said, "You're she all right! Diane . . . you don't remember me . . . But maybe if I jog your memory. Remember that little freckle-faced kid who cut one pigtail off your head in the third grade?"

"John Harvey!" she exclaimed. And she leaped to her feet, simultaneously grabbing up a book and cracking him hard on the head with it.

The librarian sped over and scolded her. "Please respect the wishes of the other readers! I'm surprised at you, Miss Meadows. In the future, conduct your quarrels outside."

"Yes," Diane said, wondering how he managed to stand still long enough to hear Miss Blake out. She stormed quickly for the street.

There, the redhead took her arm hard and swung her around. "Why'd you do that!" he demanded.

"I never forgot," she said. "And I promised myself that if I ever met up with you, I'd brain you."

"Wow," the boy groaned,

"you nearly did!" And when he grinned, Diane was aware that he looked nice. And she remembered him all right, the way he had made her cry anguished, helpless tears.

"How about a soda?" he invited. "There wasn't anyone in the Off-Beat I remembered."

"John Harvey," she said softly, "after all these years."

And they went on, remembering about third grade in the Hanover Private School. Her father and mother had gone to South America to dad's engineering job, and she had been placed in the school. John Harvey's mother had died and his grandmother had also placed John there.

"Those were the good old days," he said.

"Those were not the good old days," she said.

He agreed readily enough, and told her his father had remarried and moved back to this town he loved. "This dance tomorrow," John said, "I'd go if I could find a girl to attend with me. Can you arrange something?"

"How are you in math and Latin?" she asked.

"My best subjects," he said, wondering what that had to do with dancing.

That evening, Danny Miller was on the phone, talking fast, "I can get a date for you," he said, "my cousin . . ."

"Danny," she said easily, feeling no pain, "I have a date for the dance."

"Well," he said in a funny voice, "maybe the day after the dance, or sometime, we'll get together."

"Maybe . . . sometime," she said. And she hung up, sat back and luxuriated. It sure helped at a time like this to have a reserve boy friend handy. Even if he came from the third grade. Particularly if he was John Harvey, the only other boy who had made her cry in all her sixteen years. And it would be nice to have a boy friend who liked her for herself alone, and not because she happened to be a whiz at math and Latin.

● HOW THE VARIABLE STRETCH V PANELS WORK

Imagine 3 pair of hands (see illustration) each holding a V shaped panel stretched across your abdomen. One pair of hands pull harder where there is more bulge. A second pair of hands pull another panel but less firmly. A third pair of hands now pull on the third panel they are holding but these pull just hard enough to even out what the other hands have re-distributed.

FEEL WONDERFUL • YOUR OWN SELF AGAIN

You now feel wonderful — your own self again. Back, abdominal bulge and waist are properly and firmly but comfortably held-together. You feel so good and look inches slimmer. Once you slip into a Slimtex you'll never wear another belt. No steels, bones or buckles.
